BAHÁ'Í FAITH COMMUNITY OF SALT LAKE WELCOMES ROBERT H. STOCKMAN, AUTHOR OF "ABDU'L-BAHÁ IN AMERICA," SEPTEMBER 27 AT THE CITY LIBRARY

(September 18, 2012) Salt Lake City – In commemoration of the 100-year anniversary of Bahá'í Faith leader Abdu'l-Bahá's historic Salt Lake visit, author Robert H. Stockman will talk about his recently published book, "Abdu'l-Bahá in America," Thursday, September 27, 7 p.m., at The City Library, 231 E. 400 So. This event is free and open to the public.

The book is an account of Abdu'l-Bahá's visit, which solidified the Bahá'í Faith in the United States, and also examines the faith's relatively unknown imprint on American history.

Robert H. Stockman obtained his Master's and doctorate degrees in Religious Studies from Harvard University, where he specialized in history of religion in the United States. His writings on the Bahá'í Faith include the two-volume "The Bahá'í Faith in America," covering Bahá'í events in the United States from 1892 to 1912, and also various articles on Bahá'í history and theology. He is Director of the Wilmette Institute and has served on the boards of World Order magazine and the Bahá'í encyclopedia project. He is an instructor of religious studies at DePaul University in Chicago.

This evening of celebration and reflection will open with remarks from Jan Saeed, Director of Spiritual Life at Westminster College. A book signing and reception will follow Mr. Stockman's presentation.

Sponsored by the Bahá'í Faith Community of Salt Lake, The City Library, and the Salt Lake Interfaith Roundtable, as part of its 2012-2013 education program.

For more information or to arrange an interview with Mr. Stockman, please contact Jan Saeed at 801-558-3833.
