The Human Rights Education Center of Utah (HREC)
is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization founded in 1999

In keeping with the mission of Interfaith Roundtable to increase harmony and inclusion in Utah communities, The Human Rights Education Center of Utah is offering the following workshop that advocates for people of all faiths to live and work in harmony.

"What's Compassion Got to Do With It?" (IT being the operative word)

One needs not to be religious to practice compassion. Yet, all major religions carry the message that love, forgiveness and practicing The Golden Rule are necessary for the betterment of all. Come join a secular conversation as we assemble across differing belief systems to discover those places where we are called to be more compassionate in our daily lives. This is a highly interactive workshop where all voices are welcomed and respected as a means to encourage us to be more loving human beings. YOUR voice and experience are necessary to this conversation! Teens are encouraged to attend.

The book THE TWELVE STEPS TO A COMPASSIONATE LIFE, by Karen Armstrong will be referenced.
